Selection related to Matchmaker's AchievementsI'll get this achievement by getting Ren and Nona so far in the end. I got this in my first game, actually. The way I did it was I just never intervened, and remained supportive of each of them, but never to the point of being pushy or curious. Also, when given the choice of who to go to Main Street, I chose Nona, and still end up together. I feel like if you do it the way I described it, you're going to get that result. It's not that hard. Just stay nice to both of you and don't try to force it. That's what I did, and it worked for me. New BeginningsSary Jonas as your step-brother and just be nice to him, really. Talk often and really care about him as a person and you're ready to go. I got this for my first playthrough as well. You don't have to be with him all night, but just bond with him every time you get the chance. Also, I'm not sure if this helps, but at the beginning of the game, when Jonas asks if he could take a moment alone with you, just accept to be safe. I can't remember if it matters or not, but if that means more wedding time, why not. Thicker than Water, I didn't even think it was possible, but it's there. You can bring Michael back to life, and to do that, you have to tell him to go to school in the city. In this way, he never leaves, and therefore never drowned. When you get to the point at the end where Alex and Michael are in their house, whether they're still with Clarissa, just tell him to stay. Careful, though, this achievement is not compatible with New Beginnings, cause obviously with Michael alive again, Jonas won't be your step-brother anymore. I'm the FirestarterBe a d*ck at all. Seriously, make Alex the meanest, most horrible person. Every time you see a dialog option that makes you think this is rude or Oh my God, I would never say that, do it. Also, when ghosts ask for Clarissa, let them willingly take her, and then tell everyone. And then, they show absolutely no remorse for literally giving Clarissa's life away to ghosts. xD Continue to insist on leaving without Clarissa. That'll make everyone hate you. Personally I had a lot of fun doing this run. It was hilarious to make Alex a whole b*tch like this. Side note: It might be better not to give Clarissa to ghosts for this. I think when I was trying to make that achievement, I did give it over and I still got it. But, to be safe, don't let the ghosts take her. Renjamin SpankinThis can be done in conjunction with the Firestarter achievement. During The Truth or Slap on the Beach, when Clarissa asks Ren if he is in Nona and denies it, he quickly shouts his lies, and then that Ren told you he likes it. This will allow you to slap Ren and will also give him a negative opinion of you as far as I can tell, so y'know. Two birds, one stone, this whole thing. You'd end up hating each other. I'm pretty sure this can also coincide with Just do the opposite of what I said in Matchmaker's achievement. Keep getting involved and tell them you shouldn't get together. Being a hole to probably help them. The Powerful, Silent Press saved this for the end, personally. Basically you have to do a playthrough where you say nothing. And I mean anything. (Note that Alex's interaction with objects and automatic speech doesn't count, since you're required to do so to advance the story.) DO NOT select any dialog options whatsoever. Stay completely silent and let the game run its course. Also, as far as I can tell, you can get the thickest of the water's achievement easily with it, cause if you stay silent, Michael just automatically assumes that you want him to stay, so he does. And another important thing to note is - thanks to KaraThrace for reminding me of this - the last dialogue options of the game, during the outro team picture where Alex talks about all the results, does not fade, so you have to choose one of them to finish the game. You'll still get the achievement if you're sure you haven't gotten any other option up to that point. Point.
